PRICE ONE CENT.

NEW YORK, WEDNESDAY, MAY 9, 1888.

PRICE ONE CENT.

STILL MYSTERIOUS.

More Light Needed on Broker Hatch's Death.

Scoffeld and His Wife Quarrelled on the Fatal Night.

The Story of the Woman's Adventurous Close Investigation-The Husband Doe Not Want to See Her Again, but May Not Sue for Divorce, as He; Hates Unnec. essary Fuss-Her Financial Transactions.

The story of the sudden and mysterion death of Broker Nathaniel W. T. Hatch continues to be the sensation of the city to-day. No case for many years has excited such widespread interest.

The house 64 West Twentieth street, where the body lay for hours, unnoticed, was surrounded from early this morning by a crowd that kept three of Capt. Reilly's policemen constantly busy. Curious people got on the elevated raffroad platform close by in the hope of getting a glimpse of the yard, the stone pavement of which is still red with the blood of Mrs. Scofield's unfortunate companion.

The house was vacant. The painters and paperhangers seem to have stopped work indefinitely. Mrs. Scofield slept last night at the Hotel Royal, Fortieth street and Sixth avenue, as she could not bear to remain on the scene of the tragedy. Mr. Scofield did not return home after being paroled by the Coroner. He wandered off uptown and it is doubtful if he got any sleep at all.

An Evening World reporter found him at the entrance of Parker's Hotel at 10 o'clock. He looked pale and haggard, and a stubbly beard had risen on his face. Mr. Scofield seemed to be too despondent to refuse to talk. "Do you know where your wife is?" asked the reporter.

terday. I don't want to see her."

"How do you regard your wife's association with Mr. Hatch?"

"I protested strongly." 'No. I have not seen her since noon yes-

"I protested strongly against the man being in my wife's apartments in the middle of the night, but I did not quarrel about it. I was willing to go and leave him there, and I did so."

Have you any intention of getting a di-'I can't tell you. I haven't made up my nd. I am a man that doesn't want any re fuss or notoriety than I can possibly more fuss or notoriety than I can possibly help."

Mr. Scofield then went downtown, saying he would be at his office in the Boreel Building the rest of the day.

The police are still pursuing their investigation of the circumstances of Mr. Hatch's death.

death.

Detective Hayes said this morning that he had testimony showing conclusively that Scofield and his wife had an angry quarrel in the hallway of the house while Mr. Hatch was upstairs. Their voices were heard in passionate debate by a neighbor whose name the detective has.

the hallway of the house while Mr. Hatch was upstairs. Their voices were heard in passionate debate by a neighbor whose name the detective has.

There is also a strong suspicion with some people that Mr. Scofield waited on the adjoining floor, not submissively, but with the intention of shooting the intruder when he came out. His remark to Policeman Mc-Cormick that there was a man in his wife's room and that there would be a case for the courts was not exactly the language of a man resigned to his fate.

Coroner Levy has had a report from Capt. Reilly the purport of which he will not disclose, but it has led him to order his deputy, Dr. Jenkins, to make an autopsy on the body this afternoon.

The Coroner is having the Scofields kept under surveillance, and he will make a searching investigation.

"It is not at all clear to me that Mr. Hatch's death is accidental," said the Coroner to-day, "and I may have to hold these people. I shall await the result of the autopsy and begin the inquest to-morrow afternoon. If certain discrepancies in the statements in the case are not cleared up, I shall have to hold the Scofield's for trial."

The body of the unfortunate broker lies at his late residence, 36 West Fifty third street. The funeral is announced for 2 o'clock to-morrow afternoon from the house,

Mrs. Lillian E. Scofield's career appears to have been a dashing and adventurous one, and it seems that Mr. Hatch was not the first wealthy and susceptible man of family with whom she had business relations.

Mrs. Scofiend ame to this country from king and warm as Mrs. Scofield in San Francisco ten years ago. Mrs. Scofield was then known as Mrs. Scofield. While there she got into trouble with a rich man who visited at her house.

Mrs. Scofield came to this country from England when she was a young cirl.

her house,
Mrs. Scofield came to this country from England when she was a young girl. She took to the stage, and before her twentieth year owned a small theatre in San Francisco and starred in a burlesque entitled "Jack and Gill."

lost overboard, and Mrs. Scofield, or Libbie lost overboard, and Mrs. Scofield, or Libbie Stowell, as she was then called, navigated the ship to port. In recognition of her pluck and ability the Maritime Exchange of San Francisco presented her with a handsome silver service.

It is seven years since Mrs. Scofield permanently settled in New York, and all that time she has speculated in stocks. When she was married to Scofield in 1884 he was reputed to be a wealthy silver mine owner and railway capitalist, and he thought she was worth ten times the money she really had.

Old acquantances of Ferris and Mrs. Scofield smile when he is referred to as her brother-in-law.

A gentleman who knew both of them told an Evenema World reporter the following story:

A gentleman who knew both of them told an Evenino World reporter the following story:

"Back in the summer of 1880," he said.

"Wm. Ferris had an office in the Boreel Building. His partner was C. J. Severance. Mrs. Scofield used frequently to visit Ferris. She was then a fine-looking woman—dismonds, satins, and all that, you know.

"One day Mrs. Scofield came in and meeting me angrily asked if Ferris was upstairs. I saw there was a row ahead. She tried to get in the elevator. I prevented her. She took to the stairs and I to the elevator. I warned Ferris, but he, instead of jumping on the elevator, ran down stairs plump into Mrs. Scofield's arms.

"Then there was fun. She grabbed him by the whiskers with her left hand, and with a jewelry bag hit him about the head. The jewelry went flying. After the row she gathered up the rings and brooches.

"She made up with Ferris in the afternoon, dined with him, and late the same evening they showed up at the building, got the janitor to let them in and found some more of the missing jewelry. Ferris had plenty of money in those days."

G. D. Roberts, who knew Ferris well, was seen in his office in Aldrich court. "My relations with Mr. Ferris," he said, "were mostly of a business character. I only knew of Mrs. Scofield by reputation—not a very good reputation, either—in California. I never knew that Ferris was her brother-in-law."

"EVENING WORLDS" AT A PREMIUM.

"EVENING WORLDS" AT A PREMIUM.

"EVENING WOBLDS" AT A PREMIUM.

The story of the death of Broker Hatch printed in the first extra edition of The Evening Wobld yesterday was read by thousands long before any other newspaper published even the "alleged report" that Mr. Hatch was dead. Every copy of the paper that reached Wall street was snapped up.

One of The Evening Wobld's newsboys, a "hustler" despite his name of Sloman, went to Wall street with 380 Evening Woblds under his arm. Kiernan's newsticker had announced The Evening Wobld's news, and when Sloman, reached the Stock Exchange he was nearly suffocated by the crowd of brokers who surrounded him. Each paper brought five cents, and in a very few minutes Sloman was richer than when he left The Wobld Building.

An Evening Wobld wagon was sent down with Mod poore papers all that were left of Building.

An EVENING WORLD wagon was sent down with 500 more papers—all that were left of the first edition. The wagon in an instant was surrounded by Wall street men, some rushing out on the street without hat or coat. In an incredibly short time the wagon's supply was exhausted. In addition, hundreds of copies of The EVENING WORLD were sold by dealers in Wall street alone.

TWO FIREMEN HUET.

Injured by the Fall of an Elevator at the Thirty-ninth Street Fire.

The accidents which occurred at the burning of the two-story brick building, 184 to 144 West Thirty-ninth street, at 2 A. M. today, are not so serious as the first accounts indicated.

day, are not so serious as the first accounts indicated.
Only two men were injured. One of these, Lieut, John Murray, of the Insurance patrol in West Thirtieth street, received an injury to the spine and was badly bruised about the hips. Fireman Thos. Goss's left foot and leg were badly smashed.
The injuries of both men were caused by the fall of the elevator at 134 West Thirtyninth street. Murray is at the New York Hospital, while Goss, at his own request, was removed to Bellevue.
The buildings burned were the property of John G. Wendell and were occupied as follows: 134 to 188, S. H. Bevins, stable; loss, $5,000: 140, Wm. Jones, blacksmith; loss, $5,000: 140, Wm. Jones, blacksmith; loss, $1,000; 142 and 144, Noble Thompson, stable; loss, $2,000.

The damage was confined chiefly to the upper story, all the horses being saved.

ANN O'DELIA'S PURGATORY.

he is Likely to Swelter in the Tembe During the Hot Weather.

While practising on Lawyer Luther R. Marsh's credulity, fat and frowsy Ann Marsh's credulity, fat and frowsy Ann O'Delia Salomon warned her victim against reading the newspapers under penalty of roasting thirty thousand years under condi-tions which Bob Ingersoll does not believe

The spook queen is now likely to be treated to an experience which will approach, in a degree, the roasting she prophesied for Mr. Marsh.

Marsh.

A great number of members of the Bar have requested Col. Fellows to personally supervise the prosecution, and as he cannot try her until the case of Thos. B, Kerr is disposed of, she will probably swelter in a Tombs cell during from thirty to sixty of the hottest days of a city summer.

Ann O'Delia has been reproduced in wax by a Bowery museum manager, and a lurid regulation fat-lady canvas bearing a new legend announces the fact that the curious may see it by investing a dime.

The Day in Wall Street. The bears hammered away at the market during the morning and depressed prices 1/2 to 1 per cent. , out a raily afterwards ensued. There were few THE QUOTATIONS.

Canada Southern	934	50	4934
Canadian Pacific	976	0976	00%
Cieve., Col., Cin. & Ind.,	2	117	116
Chicago & Northwest 11	2	1001	1001
	vac.	7942	7117
	A.V	1144	1112
Chie., Mil. & St. Pani pfd	10	110	110
Oel, & Hooking Coal,	1056	2:156	2014
Consolidated Gas	1436	7434	7434
Del. Lack & Western 1	2076	129	12834
East Tenn., Vs. & Gs. 1st ptd East Tenn., Vs. & Gs. 2d ptd	1234	6334	6336
Hast Tenn., Va. & Go. 2d pfd	3634	22.	22
Ft. Worth & Denver City	11.0	80.	19179
Leptsyille & Nachville	Mil.	AAA.	MAN
Lake Shore	មី ម៉	2776	61
Lake filore	442	1112	4414
Menhattan Consot	90.	9052	8934
Michigan Central	79	79	74
Missouri Pacific	76%	7634	7536
Missouri, Kansas & Texas.	13%	13%	1336
Now Jersey Central	81	84	100
	404(100	100
N. Y. & New England	5773	951/	30.76
N. Y., Susq. & West pfa	$57	80	36
Nortolk & Western pfd	4656	4656	46%
Northern Pacific.	245	2436	2432
Northern Pacific pid	515	5136	6134
Oregon Maliway & Navigation	9434	9434	81.75
Oregon Transcontinental	24%	2576	24
Pacific Mall	30	30	27.75
Philadelphia & Reading	DUTE	DATE	01974
Stick. & West Point Ter	180	500	30.04
St. Louis & San Francisco pfd	25	0.7	163
Texas Pacific	28%	25%	25
Tenn. Coal & fron	27	27	27
Union Pacific	63%	53%	5-34
Western Union Telegraph	95%	7032	75%
Wheeling & Lake Erra	DO	6632	6412

Piper-Heldsleck Sec. Importations in 1887, 39, 316 k

INFANT CHILDREN FOR SALE.

They All Have Respectable Parents, She Says, or She Would Not Have Them-Winklemann Doesn't Consider That She Sells the Bables - An Unfortunate Youngster With a Very Bad Cold.

awakened by THE EVENING WORLD'S disclosures of the sale and purchase of infants has caused general comment. A visit to the house of Mrs. Winklemann, 42 East Second street, revealed more interesting details. A tidy-looking German girl opened the door and, upon explaining his mission, the reporter was shown into the front parlor, where a little child, neatly dressed, was playing

The room itself was a model of neatness, notwithstanding that it was used as a bedroom, curtains of some dark material hiding the closets and a blue silk counterpane on the bed.

Mrs. Winklemann soon came in, a buxom shin. What about his parents; are they respectable?" inquired the reporter.

Mrs. Winklemann straightened up and re-ee the other boy ?"

'' Yes, if it is not too much trouble," was

"Yes, if it is not too much stouche, when the reply.
"It is no trouble at all, as it is a matter of business," said Mrs. Winklemann as she left the room, bearing the first infant with her. A few minutes later the two-weeks-old child was submitted for inspection, a pretty infant, with light blue eyes and blonde hair, which, like the other one, was pronounced sound and healthy.

like the other one, was pronounced sound and healthy.

"Do you know the parents of this child?"

"I know the mother; she is an American girl, and the mother of the first one I showed is a German." How much do you charge for these you is a German."

"How much do you charge for these babies?"

"Well, that is optional," was the reply.

"Ten dollars is generally the price paid, although I have sometimes received as high as $20 for a child, and again as low as $5. It depends entirely upon the circumstances of the parties making the adoption; wealthy people, of course, generally give more than the poorer class.

"The money which I receive is not to be considered as the price of the child, but merely to pay me for my trouble in keeping the children until they are adopted."

"Do you have many calls for children from poor people?" asked the reporter.

"Well, not exactly poor people, but those of the middling class, and I also make it a point to be assured that the child that leaves my hands shall be properly provided for, and the respectability of the adopters is just as much of a question with me as the parents of the child.

Here, as at Mrs, Ritsch's, full surrender of the child is given the mother signing the the child.

Here, as at Mrs, Ritsch's, full surrender of the child is given, the mother signing the necessary document, which is delivered to the parties making the adoption.

Both the children shown to the reporter were dressed in spotless white clothes and looked as though they received the best of care. It would seem that many of these looked as though they received the best of care. It would seem that many of these waifs of humanity have their lot cast in much better lines than many of the natural children of this city, who are born in squalor and misery, to grow up in vice and ignorance, while the former are frequently adopted by people of wealth and every attention paid to their education and welfare.

The conversation with Mrs. Winklemann, as here recorded, is not given in her exact words, owing to her unfamiliarity with the English language.

ROSCOE CONKLING'S WILL PROBATED. Surrogate Bless Says It Is the Most Comprehensive Will He Ever Saw.

ling was offered for probate before Surrogate ling was offered for produce before Surrogate Bloss to-day. The Surrogate said it was the shortest, cleanest and most comprehensive will be ever saw. It covered everything, and yet made less than one hundred words. The text of the will is as follows:

text of the will is as follows:

I. Roscoe Conking, of Utica, make, publish and declare my last will and testament as follows: I give, devise and bequeath to my wife Julia, and to her heirs and assigns forever, all my property and estate, whether real, personal or mixed, and I constitute and appoint my said wife sole executrix of this, my last will.

In testimony whereof I herewith sign my name, this sist of June, 1807.

ROSCOE CONKLING.

The witnesses are Ellis H. Roberts and C.

STRICKEN AT THE "L" ROAD STATION. A Yorkville Oyster-Dealer Dies Suddenly on

Policeman Matthew McCoy, of the Old slip squad, found a man's body this morning lying at the foot of the stairs leading to the Fulton street station of the elevated rail-

The Pive Sisters.

There were five fair sisters, and each had an aim—Flora would fain be a fashionable dame;
Scholarly Susan's selection was books;
Coquettisa Cora cared more for good looks;
Anna, ambitious, aspired after wealth;
Sensible Sarah sought first for good health.
So she took Dr. PIRKON'S GOLDEN MYDICAL Discoverny and grew healthy and blooming. Cora's beauty quickly faded; Susan's eyesight falled from over-study; Flora became nervous and fretful in striving after fashion, and a sickly family kept Anna's husband poot. But sensible Saran grew daily more healthy, charming and intelligent, and she married rich. "."

BOSS O'BRIEN STILL ON TOP.

He Reorganizes the Eighth District to Sul

Boss John J. O'Brien, of the Eighth District machine, has again defied the aristocratic and high-minded members of the Republican party. John J. remains a solid man and true to Barney Rourke, whom he delights to call " My dear friend Barney." The Republican County Committee may newspapers may call Barney Rourke the keeper of a dive, a traitor and a boodle dispenser; Barney Rourke may work and just as he pleases on election vote but John J. O'Brien and Bar ney Rourke continued to throw their arms around each other's neck and whisper in each other's ear: "The G. O. P. be durned.

ney Rourke continued to throw their arms around each other's neck and whisper in each other's ear: "The G. O. P. be durned. I am with you and you are with me. Let her rip. We have the police and the election inspectors, and what do we care? Hip, hip, and here comes Johnny Brodsky."

The Republican County Committee declared war against O'Brien, Rourke & Co. shortly after the election. Rourke openly supported Col. Fellows for District-Attorney and Alfred Steckler for Civil Justice against the regular Republican nominees.

The County Committee, by an almost unanimous vote, declared that the district must be reorganized, and O'Brien's delegates were bounced from the committee. At the primary held to elect a new machine O'Brien reorganized himself, and there was no opposition to the Boas's ticket. Last night O'Brien elected Barney Rourke a delegate to the Republican State Convention.

Ex-Assemblyman John E. Brodsky, one of O'Brien's lieutenants, said to an Eveniso Women reporter to-day; "Yes, we have elected Barney Rourke a delegate to the Buffalo Convention. Barney is all right now. He acted a little independent at the last election on local candidates, but in State and national politics he always toes the mark.

"We have the right to send anybody to a State Convention. Each district is the judge of its own affairs in selecting delegates, and the County Committee has no jurisdiction over the district conventions. I will say this, Barney Rourke is red hot for James G. Blaine for President."

The election of Barney Rourke as a delegate to the Republican State Convention has surprised such delegates as Robert Ray Hamilton, Lispenard Stewart, S. V. R. Cruger and Ernest H. Crosby. They may insist that the delegates from the First, Second and Eighth Assembly Districts should be seated together at the convention and a railing built around them.

TWELVE MEN TO TRY KERR.

The Prosecution Chailenged the Foreman, and Then There Were Only Eleven.

For the first time the jury box in the Court of Oyer and Terminer was filled this morning with twelve men who were deemed qualified to try Thomas B. Kerr. The prosecution at once began peremptory challenges. At recess the jurors were:

1. MAURICE D. EGER, paints, 43 John street, 2. JOHN MRAGHER, real estate, 240 East Thirtieth B. WM. A. WILSON, hardware 350 East Pifteenth

Street.
GRO. H. WITTE, secretary, 142 Second avenue.
GRO. M. HUNTINGTON, agent, 185 West Fortyfifth street.
JOHN T. WELCH, superintendent, 299 Henry

It required only four dips into the recesses of the jury grag-bag by Clerk Walsh this morning to secure a prize in John H. Haviland, real estate agent at 334 West Thirty-second street. Mr. Haviland naively admitted that he had an opinion adverse to the defendant, but thought it would not control him, and he took seat No. 12.

With forty peremptory challenges to be exercised and men in the box objectionable exercised and men in the box objectionable to both the prosecution and defense, this did not end the work of jury-getting. The prosecution promptly challenged Foreman Sadlier, who had been patiently sitting in the box for exactly one week, and the weary work went on box for exactly one week, and the weary work went on.

Maurice D. Eger, a dealer in paints at 48
John street, was chosen to fill the foreman's seat after seventeen sick or opinionated talesmen had been called to the stand.
Then, as if proposing a clean sweep of the box, Col. Fellows peremptorily challenged juror No. 2, John E. Hunter.
A man was found to fill this seat in the person of John Mesgher, a real estate agent, of 240 East Thirtieth street,
His acceptance was followed immediately by the challenge on the part of the people of Juror Haviland.

WHY THE PUBLIC APPLAUD.

Fow of the Things Which Have Caught the People's Fancy. The week is but half spent and yet the record of

On Monday it was the first paper to announce the loss of the steamer Eureka, and in its Sporting Extra it gave more news of the horse races, baseball games and other sports of the day than any Tuesday, in an Extra at 11 o'clock, it gave a full Games Scheduled To-Day. New York vs. Indianapolis, at Indianapolis. Boston vs. Detroit, at Detroit. Washington vs. Chicago, at Chicago. Philadelphia vs. Pittsburg, at Pittsburg.

ASSOCIATION. Brooklyn vs. Athletic, at Philadelphia. Baltimore vs. Cleveland, at Cleveland. St. Louis vs. Cincinnsti, at Cincinnsti. Kynsas City vs. Louisville, at Louisville discipline Barney Rourke; the Republican Britisher Cartwright Gives It Up as a Bad Job.

The Standing of the Clubs.

AGAIN IN THE LEAD.

Littlewood Wins Back First Place at the Big Race.

> SCORE AT 2 O'CLOCK.
> Littlewood
> 298
>
>
> Hughes
> 278
>
>
> Herty
> 276
>
>
> Guerrero
> 270
>
>
> Golden
> 261
>
>
> Noremac
> 259
>
>
> Dillon
> 239
>
>
> Campana
> 225
>
>
> Vint
> 219

Madison Square Garden race this morning. At midnight Hughes had lengthened the lead that he had gained while Littlewood was suffering with a rusty thigh-joint, to 7% miles, and Littlewood was in his cot again.

There was another change of places in the Even Dan Herty had caught the Englishasn, and he, too, retired to rest, Littlewood returned to the track at 1.30 A. M., refreshed and less DAN HEBTY.

stiff. He immediately resumed his easy flatfoot run, at a five-mile pace and proceeded to overhaul the Lepper, who at this time could not better his threemile gait. Mile after mile was covered, and when Littlewoood circled the track for the 106th time after his sleep, he overtook the Lepper and passed him in the sixth lap of his 140th mile.

Lepper and passed him in the sixth lap of his 240th mile.

It was at 3.27 in the morning. The garden was nearly empty of spectators, but the scattering few devotees applauded as lustily as their droway condition would permit.

When Herty returned to the track after two hours' sleep, he found that Littlewood had regained five miles of his lead, while he was not so limber as he might be.

Cartwright, the Londoner, had dropped to seventh place. He said that he was "bloody bad" and was "going to drop the blooming, busted race," which he did at 3.50 o'clock, announcing when he lopped down upon his cot that " no blooming think on earth" could move him for a week.

Hughes had been off the track twenty-four minutes while this was going on, taking nourishment and having a rubbing down. After his 241st mile Hughes retired and Littlewood made a beautiful spurt at an eightminute gatt.

tlewood made a beautiful spurt at an eightminute gatt.

But Hughes's slouching form reappeared in five and a half minutes, and he dogged Littlewood for a whole hour. Then, at 5.19 o'clock, the Lepper again retired to his hut and underwent the manipulations of his trainer for thirty minutes, returning to find Littlewood running nicely to the music of the band, which had come in for the day.
George was just five miles ahead and running at a ten-minute clip, a gait which was too much for the Lepper and which stretched his lead by a mile in the next hour.

Saunders, the Brooklyn smateur, had been last man in the race for many hours. He went to bed at 3 o'clock this morning.

The relative positions of the other men were unchanged. The scores are as follows:

BOOKE FROM 1 TO 6 O'CLOCK A. M.

SCORE FROM 1 TO 6 O'CLOCK A. M.

Name.	14.4.	24. M.	3.4. M.	4.A. H.	SA.M.	6A. M.
Littlewood Hughes	225.4 233.0 225.1 220.0	280.0 234.8 225.1	235.6 336.3 226.4 221.2	240.4 240.0 200.1	245.0 243.7 235.0 229.8	250.6 246.5 259.4 232.6
Noremac. Guerrero. Cartwright. Dislon. Campana	208 0 212 1 204 7 120 0 186 1	218.6 913.1 204.7 190.0 189.2	217.6 316.4 200.4 194.0 193.6	222.6 222.0 210.2 198.6 195.7	227.0 235.2 Out, 202.6 199.5	201. 229.1 206.6 201.
Vint. Baunders	166.7	185.6	156.2	158.2	Out.	191.0
711	E SCORE
Name.	7A.M.	84.4.	94. H.	10 A M	11 4 #	12 M
Littlewood	256.0	201.4	266.4	272.0	276.7	281.6

Peter Golden breakfasted between 6 and 7, and while he was picking the bones out of his fish Noremac and Guerrero put their pegs in ahead of his, and at 7 o'clock he had been fish Noremac and Guerrero put their pegs in ahead of his, and at 7 o'clock he had been relegated to sixth place.

At 7 o'clock, the fifty fifth hour of the race, Albert scored in the last race 262 miles, 6 laps, and the record made by Rowell in 1882 was twenty miles better still. Littlewood to day scored 256 miles at that bour, and had covered 94½ miles in the twenty-four hours ending then. But Littlewood was in fine condition and is a faster man than Albert, everything else being equal.

At midnight on the third day of his race Rowell had covered 353½ miles, and Albert scored 348 miles at the seventy-second hour. There is little hope that Littlewood can equal this, but it should be borne in mind that Fitzgerald's record was not as good as either of these until the fifth day. He first touched the record at the 110th hour. Jimmy Albert did not touch the record until the seventy-ninth hour.

Geog Guerrero had an attack of vertigo yes.

did not touch the record until the seventyninth hour.

Gus Guerrero had an attack of vertigo yesterday, and on Monday he was all out of condition, but this morning he was in fine trim, and kept up his graceful lone for many miles.

The second day of a go-as-you-please is always the hardest one on the pedestrians, and those who do not succumb during Tuesday generally stay until the finish.

Jack Hughes's lame foot caused him much trouble yesterday, but seemed dead to pain to-day, and he ran with the same indifference to-day that has always been his characteristic.

to-day that has always been his characteristic.

In the fifty-sixth bour Littlewood increased his lead on Hughes by nearly a mile, and Herty was nearer Hughes at the finish of this hour by six laps.

At this hour in the last race Herty scored 263% miles. He lacked four miles of that record to-day, but was in better condition, and with good sleep behind him.

Cartwright was officially declared a "stiff" and his score placed in the sepulchre at 7 o'clock this morning. Saunders sent word at 9 o'clock that he would not return.

Careful scrutiny of Lepper Hughes as he labored around the ellipse discovered that he was breathing heavily early in the day and that he favored his game leg in running. Experts shook their heads and said that if Hughes's trainers permitted him to go to sleep they would never be able to arouse him again.

Old Sport Campana is the wonder of this sleep they would never be able to arouse him again.

Old Sport Campans is the wonder of this race. He says: "I am sixty-two years old, and I haven't got a tooth in my head and only a few hairs on it, but I'm here for sport, and don't you forget it,"
Dan Herty is proclaimed as the coming mam. He is working to a schedule of five and a half miles an hour, and nothing tempts

HUNT OF THE CALYDONIAN BOAR. The Modern Meleager Slays the People's

him to increase that speed. When Hughes, Littlewood and Guerrero have broken themselves all up by spurting, Herty, still far behind, will be in good shape and continue on his schedule to the finish. The advance of Herty to the front may not come in twenty-four hours, but it will surely come, say the knowing ones.

In view of this expert testimony, it may be interesting to review Herty's work. He covered 123 miles 4 laps in the first twenty-four hours and 101 miles 5 laps in the second twenty-four hours. From midnight to 9 o'clock this morning he went 29 miles 3 laps. He had had six hours' sleep in two naps, and had, of course, spent some time in his hut for rubbing and in esting. His condition was excellent this morning. He travelled in the same manner in the February race, going 592 miles and receiving second money.

econd money. In the fifty ninth hour Littlewood ran in In the fifty-ninth hour Littlewood ram in splendid style. He gained in his lead over Hughes amile and five laps, making his lead at 11 o'clock nine miles. But he was still six miles slower than Albert at the same hour. Herty gained a mile and a half on Hughes, but lost two laps to Littlewood.

A man fell in a whiskey fit in the centre of the hig nearlilon at alexan c'clock, the third

A man fell in a whiskey fit in the centre of the big pavilion at eleven o'clock, the third case of the kind during the race.

At the sixtieth hour (noon) on Wednesday Albert had scored 288 miles 6 laps in the February race: Herty covered 273 miles 3 laps, and Guerrero 278 miles 1 lap.

Thus Littlewood was behind Albert's record to-day seven miles. Herty's score was not so good as that made by bim against Albert by five miles.

The record for the sixtieth hour was made by Charlie Rowell in 1882. He scored 307 miles six laps, and afterwards won the race in 602 miles.

n 602 miles.

in 602 miles.

Having worn John Hughes down to a point which makes him an easy victim, Littlewood is devoting himself entirely to Dan Herty today. But Herty is not to be induced to forsake his schedule gait.

At noon Littlewood lifted his feet as clean and gracefully as Herty.

The fight is a fine one. Hughes went to his hut for a rubhing at 1.15, and remained half an hour.

his hut for a rubbing at 1.15, and remained half an hour.

Meantime Herty cut out two miles of the distance between himself and the Lepper. Hughes limped badly, but he is made of pure grit, and may yet be a hard man to best.

The score at 1 P. M. was as follows: littlewood, 287.4; Hughes, 275.5; Herty, 271.5; Guerrero, 264.7; Roremae, 258.2; Golden, 257.5; Dillon, 235.2; Campana, 228.5; Vint, 215.

RACING IN ENGLAND.

R. Homfray's Aged Horse Kineky. [SPECIAL TO THE PRESS NEWS ASSOCIATION.]

LORDON, May 9.—The sixty-fifth race for the Chester Cup of £700, for three-year-olds and upward at about two miles and a quarter, was run to-day. It is a handicap at £25 each, £15 forfeit, the second to receive £100 and the third £50 out of the stakes. It had twelve starters and was won by the top weight, Mr. J. G. R. Hon-fray's aged horse Kmsky, by Kisber out of Illuminata, carrying 124 lb., with the Duke of Westminsters four-year-old Savile, by Hampton, at 108 lb., second, and Lord Bradford's four-year-old Chippeway, by Wenlock or Chippeudele, at 99 pounds; hird. The race was closely contested and highly exciting at the finish, with Kinsky winning by a length, and Savile only a bead in front of Chippeway. The betting was 7 to 2 against Kinsky, 14 to 1 Savile, and 17 to 1 Chippeway. Kinksy's success was somewhat a surprise, for the distance was supposed to be a little beyond his ability tolearry so much weight, his successed during the last two years having been confined to races of a mile and a quarter or under. In 1886 he won the Esher Stakes, at a mile, at Sandown, the Royal Stakes at Epsom at three-quarters of a mile, the Ascot High-weight Handicap, at a mile and a quarter, and the Prince of Wales Cup at Kempton Park in July, while last year he won the Leicestershire Spring Handicap at a mile, the Great Cheshire Handicap at a mile and a quarter, and the Leicestershire Julies Handicap at a mile. The Duke of Westminster, the owner of the second, is one of the principal supporters of the races at Chester, he having contributed £200 of the £700 added to the stakes, Eaton Hall, the Duke's Cheshire residence, being one of the show places in the west of England. LORDON, May 9. -The sixty-fifth race for being one of the show places in the west of England.

Guttenburg Entries The entries for the races at the North Hudson Driving Park to-morrow are as follows:
First Race. - Purse $200, of which $50 to for maidens of all ages; three-quarters of a m three-quarters of Lt.
117 Brighton...
115 Volusteer.
115 Milton G...
115 King Fore
113 Eleanor C.

Second Race Purse ond, for all ages; selling	$700, of which $50 to the sec- allowaness; three-quarters of s mile.	Lb. Lb.
Tony Foster Lython Allanoke Elogbird Weaver Endwing Earry Brown Looped Third Baco. Furse 5t or all ages; to carry 5 lt	15 Chinchilla
LyGon	1:5 Loonidas
Allanoke	115 Clanling
Kingbird	112 Cholula
Weaver	109 Jos Pierson 9
Redwing	100 Gulmara Di
Barry Brown	97
Third Bace Purse 9	250, of which $50 to the second,
for all ages: to carry 5 lt	below the scale; five furiouga
	17 a which $50 to the second, below the scale; five furiough
Krishna	113 Laonidas 11

-Purse $250, of which $50 to the second, I. M. Bates & Co.'s Opening.

An event that should claim the attention of every lady in New York is the offering of special lines of lady in New York is the offering of special lines of summer goods to-morrow by L. M. Bates & Co. at their new and elegant establishment at Sixth avenue and Twenty-third street. The new tines will consist of three special lots of ladies fine jersey jackets, which will be offered at greatly reduced prices, it some cases as much as 38 per cent. from the figures usually charged for this class of goods, some beautiful satin-lined jackets and French wraps, a full stock of ribbons of the latest styles and colorings and all the novelties of the season in the way of parasols and sun unbretics. A special lot of children's astin parasols is also effered at exceedingly low prices.

TO STOP CROOKED AGENCIES.

SENATOR REILLY'S BILL TO REGULATE THE EMPLOYMENT BUREAUS.

t Has Passed the Assembly and New Class to the Governor-Under Its Provisions Swindling Agencies Will Have Little Chance to Defraud Those Who Seek Work-Licences Cost 825 Ench.

ALBANY, May 9. - Senaior Reilly's bill to stamp out swindling employment agencies was passed in the Assembly to-day. It now goes to the Governor. Its provisions are exremely severe. Here is a synopsis of them: No person shall engage in the business of seeping an intelligence office, employm bureau, or other agencies in the city of New York, where a fee is charged for registration, for the purpose of procuring or assisting to procure employment or situations of any kind, or furnishing help to any person, either in or out of said city, without first procuring alicense therefor from the Mayor of mid city, under a penalty of not more than $50 fine for each offense.

In case any person shall be charged a fee for the purpose of obtaining employment or a situation by any such intelligence office or employment agency bureau, and it shall be proved that no such employment or situation was to be obtained, or vacaucies existing at the place where such persons be sent, then the keeper of such office or agency shall be the keeper of such office or agency shall be fiable to said person for the fare paid by him or her in going to and returning from said place; and should the keeper of said office or agency fail to pay such fare, the Mayor may revoke the license.

Every keeper of such intelligence office, employment agency or other place kept for the purpose of procuring employment or situations, is required to give to each person from whom they accept a fee a receipt stating the amount so paid and the character of the situation or employment they agree to procure for such person, specifying the time in which such employment or situation is to be farnished.

In case of failure to furnish such employment to such applicant the keeper of the in-furnished.

In case of failure to furnish such employment to such applicant the keeper of the intelligence office or employment agency shall refund the full amoust of such fee to the person by whom such fee was paid.

Every person engaged in the business of keeping an intelligence office, employment agency or etiler place where employment agency or stiter place where employment or situations are procured in the City of New York, shall have on the back of each and every receipt given by them for fees received for the procuring of employment or situation a copy of the first section of this act printed clearly and legibily in plain type, and a failure to comply with this provision of this section shall be deemed a sufficient cause for the forfeiture of the license of the person violating the same.

The Mayor may require from each person licensed or applying for a license under this act a bond, with a good and sufficient surely conditioned for the inithful observance of the provisions contained therein.

Each license shall begin in the house in which the person licensed shall keep his office and the number of such license, and shall continue to be in force until the first Tuesday of May next ensuing the data thereof, and no longer unless sooner revoked by the Mayor.

Every person who may be licensed under and by virtue of the provisions of this act shall pay to the Mavor for the use of the city of New York the sum of $25, and for the renewal of any such license $13.50.

All acts or narts of acts inconsistent with of New York the sum of $25, and for the re-newal of any such license $13.50.

All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

The act shall take effect immediately.

CARPENTERS WIN A STRIKE.

Hedden's Sous at Length Agree to Pay the Union Rate of Wages. The strike of union carpenters on the building of D. S. Walton, at Variek and Franklin streets, for the carpentry of which Hedden's Sons have the contract, was do-Hedden's Sons have the contract, was de-clared off to-day.

The Messrs. It idden agree to pay the union rate of $3.50 a for a only union carpenters, and those of the men who struck are at lib-erty to return to work.

The same applies to all the other jobs of the Messrs. Hedden in this city, and in Brooklyn, where they have contracts, $3.25 is paid, and on the Jersey Central Station, in Jersey City, the union rate of $8 a day in paid.

[BY CABLE TO THE PHESS NEWS ASSOCIATION.]
DUBLIN, May 9.—The Catholic Archbishop and Bishops are in conference at Clonliffe College to-day. The subject before them is the Papal rescript and how it shall be treated.

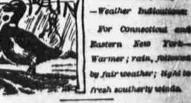

Bishops Consider the Papal Receript,

Sunday having passed without the formal promulgation of the rescript, it is still open to amendment, and may even be withdr The advice of the Bishops to-day will contribute to either result.

Settlement of the Morocco Question (MY CABLE TO THE PRESS NEWS ASSOCIATION.)

LONDON, May 9.—A despatch from Tangle announces that the question between United States and Morocco has been finally

Warmer Weather, With Roll. WASHINGTON, May &

Warmer ; rain, followed by fair weather; Night be fresh southerty winds ted by Blakely's tele-thermon and starred in a burlesque entitled "Jack and Gill."

After that she travelled through the country with a stock company, and in 1879 turned up in New York with nearly $80,000.

With this she speculated in stocks and went into various money-making schemes, some of which were profitable. One of her failures was the "Passion Play," which she induced Salmi Morse to put upon the stage of the Twenty-third Street Tabernacle, and for which she provided part of the money.

In that unsuccessful venture she was known as "Mr. Johnson."

George D. Roberts. of the Postal Telegraph Company; Albert J. Eaves, the costumer, and D. C. Ferris, whom Mrs. Scofield calls her brother-in-law, also contributed to the expenses of the "Passion Play" and they bore the greater portion of the loss.

It is said that Mr. Ferris is not related to Mrs. Scofield. He has, however, been acquainted with her for many years, both in New York and the West.

At one boint in her career out West Mrs. Scofield appeared as the wife of a steamship captain whose vessel ran out of San Fransisco. The captain died and the mate was

THE PRICE FROM $5 TO $20 EACH AT MRS. WINKLEMANN'S.

The widespread interest which has been with her toys upon the floor.

Mrs. Winklemann soon came in, a buxom German, whose neat appearance corresponded with the room. After a preliminary conversation, the reporter informed her that a male infant was desired to replace one just lost, and Mrs. Winklemann shortly after presented a babe for inspection.

"This little fellow is five weeks old," she explained, "and a strong, healthy child, too. He is suffering with a fearful cold in his head just now and it makes him sniffle. Otherwise there is nothing the matter with him."

The poor infant was indeed suffering, as his swollen eyes and whe zing proclaimed.

his swollen eyes and who zing proclaimed. His eyes were dark blue. He had brown hair and was not a particularly beautiful child owing to the almost total absence of

Mrs. Winklemann straightened up and replied, freezingly:

"Every child that comes into my possession I must have assured proof of its respectability. I make inquiries regarding them, and if they are not satisfactry I refuse to accept them."

"Have you any other children here?"

"I have another boy, two weeks old. and a girl about the same age. Would you like to see the other boy?"

UTICA, May 9.—The will of Roscoe Conk-

His Way to Market.

Fulton street station of the elevated railroad.

In the pockets were $22.78 in money, a check for $9.83, a seal ring, a diamond stud, keys, a pair of gold-mounted spectacles and papers which showed that the dead man was William H. Shinnick, an oyster and fish dealer of 1603 First avenue.

His wife, who was notified, identified the body. She said that her husband had been troubled with pleurisy of the heart, and she had expected that he would die suddenly.

Mr. Shinnick was well known uptown and was prosperous. At the time of his death he was going to Fulton Market to make his purchases for the day.

New York

atreel.

O. GEO. P. Hammond, produce, 34 Little Twelfth.

L. JOHN A. BRADSHAW, secretary, 233 East Twenty-third sireel.

Vacant.

beats for THE EVENING WORLD is large enough to Tuesday, in an Extra at 11 o'clock, it gave a full story of the death of Nathaniel W. T. Hatch, the news of the death of Mahlon Sands and the inside history of the condition of Emperor Frederick. The veto of the Saturday Haif-Holiday Repeal bill, which was a substantial victory for The Evening World, was also announced.

The Sporting Extra contained full accounts of the races at Pimileo, Guttenburg and Lexington and in England. And Ther Evening World was the only paper that told how Tiernan made a home runs at Indianapolis and won the game for New York.

This morning it may be added that the Extra Evening World contained the 10 o'clock score at the walking match and also an account of the fire at Elizabethport, N. J.

CENTRAL LEAGUE. Newark vs. Jersey City, at Jersey City. Elmira vs. Binghamton, at Binghamton, Allentown vs. Easton, at Easton, Scranton vs. Wilkesbarre, at Wilkesbarre.

ASSOCIATION